

Drums'n'Eggs Kit - Where it comes from Text in this orange colour indicates that similar instruments can be found on every continent

Egg shakers

Simple shakers made from gourds or seed pods have been used in almost every culture. They're particularly typical of north and south American and African traditions.

Mini Kenkeni

This is a small version of a dundun type drum played in Mali and Guinea in west Africa. Similar double-headed drums are also found in Europe, the Balkans, India, China and Japan.

Super mini kenkeni

A smaller version of the mini kenkeni.

Teenyweeny kenkeni

An even smaller version of the mini kenkeni.

Drums'n'Eggs Kit - What's included

6 Egg shakers

Made from: Mahogany wood* and plastic beads Played by: shaking
Age from: 4 months (basket not included)

30 Music cards

Ideas and hints for leading stimulating music sessions
There are 5 introductory cards and 25 musical activity cards.

Mini kenkeni

Super mini kenkeni

Teenyweeny kenkeni

Made from: bamboo, wood, goatskin, cotton and steel rings
Played by: hitting
Age from: 2-ish

Take care: The skin is tough but don't hit with anything sharp and don't get it wet (but if you do, it can always be dried out with a hair dryer)

9 Beaters

Made from: mango wood, foam sponge and fabric
Played by: hitting
Age from: 2-ish

Please note that seasonal availability of some materials or other factors affecting supply may cause us to make substitutions from time to time.

* all our mahogany wood is sustainably grown